Would Deny Suburbanites Vote Against Annexation

Two years ago the General Assembly corrected an injustice against citizens living just outside a city's boundary line. The preceding law permitted cities to annex adjacent property on the combined vote of city and suburban citizens—denying the right of the outnumbered suburbanites to have their votes counted separately. It amounted to disenfranchisement of the rural property owner.

But Act 65 of 1969 changed all this. Act 65 required separate tallies on city and suburban votes—and city politicians promptly labeled No. 65 as "the city-killer bill."

Nor did the city politicians rest until they began work on a repealer for No. 65.

The repealer is H.B. 222, which would return us to the original system of counting only the combined vote on annexation—again disenfranchising the rural citizen. And taking a leaf from the 1969 Assembly debate the suburban folks labeled H.B. 222 "the county-killer bill."

H.B. 222 came out of the House Committee on City & County Affairs with a "Do Pass" recommendation Feb. 3, and now is on the Assembly calendar, with a House vote due almost any day.

I suggest you urge Rep. Mack McLarty and any other legislators you are acquainted with to vote against H.B. 222.

Not only is H.B. 222 basically unfair to the suburban property owner but it establishes a false and dangerous philosophy for cities—putting mere population ahead of a city's obligation to furnish adequate municipal public services.

Hope isn't typical of most Arkansas cities because it has the profits of the municipally-owned Water & Light Plant to lean on. But the average Arkansas city is virtually broke, with insufficient tax funds to take care of public service for citizens already under urban rule—let alone diluting present revenue by importing an additional obligation through annexation.

Friends in the Little Rock area tell me that in the days before Act 65 of 1969—"the city-killer law"—the undermanned suburban community was able to prevail over the big town for the simple reason many Little Rockians voted against annexation because they felt the city already had more obligations than it had money to cover.

Any way you look at it H.B. 222 is strictly poison. Write your legislators at once to kill it.

Occasional Rain Likely in Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The occasional rain and scattered thunderstorms that hit the state Thursday night were to end today, allowing cooler temperatures to creep back into Arkansas tonight and Saturday.

Low temperatures tonight are expected to be in the low 20s to low 30s. High Saturday will range from the low 40s to the low 50s.

A low pressure system, which brought the showers and thundershowers, continues to control the weather picture.

The National Weather Service issued a severe thunderstorm bulletin at midnight Thursday, but canceled it 2½ hours later with no report of severe weather received.

The low pressure system will control Arkansas' weather through Saturday.

The highs Thursday ranged from 51 at Jonesboro to 65 at Texarkana.

Asks Hoffa Not to Run in Prison

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — A high Teamster official said today he and other leaders will try to dissuade union President James R. Hoffa if he discloses plans to seek re-election while still in prison.

"I don't know what Jimmy's desires are, but if he decides to run under those circumstances, I will attempt to discourage him," said Teamster's Vice President Harold Gibbons of St. Louis.

Gibbons said, "If he is out of prison there is no argument that he will be re-elected."

Hoffa is serving an eight-year jury tampering sentence in the federal penitentiary at Lewisburg, Pa.

Gibbons also disclosed in an interview that he and two other Teamsters vice presidents had refused to give acting union President Frank Fitzsimmons a commitment of support for the Teamsters presidency if Hoffa loses his bid for parole in March.

Gibbons didn't name the other two but said "some of us objected on grounds it was premature."

Getting Teenagers Fed Properly Is a Very Big Dietary Problem

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Life with two teen-agers in the house can have its problems. Right now they are largely dietary.

My Teen-agers are a daughter, Tracy, 17, and a cat, Lady Dottie, 13.

Trying to get them properly fed has been a long misadventure in both human and feline nutrition. It is amazing how many of the world's thousands of kinds of food a teen-ager can find objectionable, whether the teen-ager is two-legged or four-pawed.

All you have to do is tell either of them that any particular food is good for them, and you find that it is the one food in the universe they despise the most and can tolerate the least.

So far as I can recall, my daughter subsisted largely on bacon and ice cream until she was 13. Since then she has tried every food fad that comes along.

One week she has only grapefruit washed down with cola. The second week it is pizza pie and cola. The third week it is salted peanuts or licorice candy and cola.

I made the mistake early in her life of saying, "Tracy, if you don't eat more nourishing food, all your teeth will fall out on the floor on your 12th birthday."

Liquor Issue Having Tough Time in Senate, May Get to Vote

Teachers to Decend on Capital

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Dale Bumpers says he would be agreeable to giving teachers a bigger salary increase than he has proposed.

He said, however, that he would not propose using additional state money to increase teacher salaries above the level he proposed last week in a budget and tax message to the legislature.

The governor said the additional money could come from school operation funds providing that the necessary funds were available for operating the schools before the additional money is allotted. He pointed out that he could not guarantee that the teachers would receive the additional money since school administrators and the legislature would have a say-so.

Personal Income Up in January

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's personal income made a strong $8 billion advance in January, reflecting rising employment, higher hourly earnings and a longer work week, the Commerce Department said today.

A large part of the increase, however, was attributed to a rebound in economic conditions after settlement of the General Motors strike.

Personal income last month reached a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $825.5 billion. The increase was more than double the average monthly gain in 1970.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Senate voted today to consider the administration's bill to repeal the state's fair trade liquor law as a special order of business Monday.

The action came after the Senate debated for an hour and 10 minutes on what procedures to follow for action on the bill.

Sen. Guy H. "Mutt" Jones of Conway, an opponent of the bill, stymied Senate action today by keeping the bill in his possession. Jones said he checked the bill out because he wanted to amend it.

During the wrangling, Sen. Bill H. Walmsley of Batesville withdrew as sponsor of the measure and Sen. Ben Allen of Little Rock replaced him.

The Senate may be no better off Monday, however, than it was today when attempts were made to consider the bill. Consideration could be delayed then if Jones has not returned the bill and if the Senate declines to require him to hand the bill over.

Jones said that he anticipates he will have an amendment prepared and will be able to turn the bill in in time for consideration Monday.

The bill, HB83, would repeal the state law providing for a guaranteed markup on the price of liquor at both the wholesale and retail levels.

Under Senate rules, any committee chairman is entitled to check out a bill, but the Senate may compel a chairman to return the bill. The Senate clearly did not want to issue a directive to Jones and the compromise was reached to put the measure off until Monday.

Child Perishes in House Fire

HUNTSVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Gary Drain, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Drain, died Thursday in a fire that destroyed the family home five miles north-east of Huntsville.

Authorities said a passerby, Ted Van Hook, saw the house burning and helped the mother and another child, who was not identified, escape.

By then, Van Hook told authorities, the whole inside of the house was in flames. He said he heard Gary screaming but could not reach him. The child wore braces on both legs, authorities said.

Israel to Reject Peace Envoy's Plan

By MARCUS ELLASON
Associated Press Writer
JERUSALEM (AP) — Israel is likely to reject proposals for a Middle East peace settlement reportedly made by U.N. peace envoy Gunnar V. Jarring, sources close to the government said today.

The sources said that Israeli policymakers consider that the Swedish diplomat overstepped his terms of reference in taking the reported initiative.

The feeling in government circles, they said, is that under the 1967 Security Council resolution that set up Jarring's mission, he was empowered to assist in bringing about contact between the Israelis and the Arabs and not to initiate peace proposals.

Hempstead at Top in Wrecks, Deaths

The Arkansas State Police in its monthly statistical review reported today that 43 persons died in traffic fatalities during the month of January. According to State Police figures this is 13 more deaths than were recorded over the same period a year ago.

Captain Milton Mosier District Commander of the Hope District for the Arkansas State Police said that 8 persons died during the month of January on Arkansas highways in the Hope district. Counties in the district recording deaths were Hempstead with 2 deaths, Sevier 2 deaths, Pike 1 death, Miller 1, Lafayette County 1 and Little River 1 death. Clark, Howard, and Nevada Counties were free of fatalities during the reporting period.

Mosier said Troopers in the 9 county area investigated 54 accidents. Miller County experienced the highest accident rate during January recording 12 accidents, followed by Hempstead with 11 accidents, Howard 8, Little River 8, Clark 5, Pike 5, Sevier 4 and Nevada 2 accidents.

The report indicated that drinking was the leading contributing cause in the accidents followed by excessive speed, failure to yield the right of way, inattention, improper turning and improper passing.

The 43 traffic deaths occurred in 40 collisions. Statewide Troopers investigated 954 accidents during the month of January.

Mosier said Troopers in the Hope district will continue their accelerated enforcement program to reduce traffic fatalities in the district.

Quake Deaths at 58, Loss of $1 Billion

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Officials today counted 58 deaths from Southern California's earthquake disaster and the search of debris for other victims continued.

Estimates of damage from Tuesday's devastating tremor were upped to $1 billion.

Rescuers picking through the ruins of the Veterans Administration Hospital in Sylmar said they had removed 37 bodies and rescued a man trapped for 58 hours. Three patients and three employees were missing and feared dead.

A 68-year-old chef at the hospital was pulled from the wreckage late Thursday after being buried since the quake hit at 6:01 a.m. Tuesday. Rescue personnel said Frank Carbonara apparently was saved by a large metal tub which kept pieces of concrete and other rubble from falling on him.

Carbonara was rushed by helicopter to a hospital where he was pronounced in good condition, although suffering from chest and hand injuries.

Interviewed by newsmen at the hospital, Carbonara, his face gaunt and drawn, said he didn't think he slept during the whole ordeal.

Asked what kept him alive, he replied, "I thought I was dead." Meanwhile, some 80,000 persons who were evacuated from a 20-square-mile area of the populous San Fernando Valley below an earthquake-damaged reservoir were expected to be allowed to return to their homes late today. Engineers had drained off much of the water in the 3.6 billion gallon reservoir whose concrete face was cracked by the quake.

The homes of thousands of persons in the valley and in communities such as San Fernando and Sylmar were damaged or destroyed.

Many fled to homes of relatives, went to evacuation centers set up in the Los Angeles area, or camped out in tents.

Thomas S. Kleppe, head of the Small Business Administration, estimated not more than one homeowner in 10,000 had earthquake insurance.

Tap water came out a brownish color in thousands of Los Angeles area homes but authorities said it was safe to drink. Five suburban communities had only partial water service or none at all. Residents were buying bottled water or getting it from tank trucks.

J.C. Penney Succumbs at Age 95

NEW YORK (AP) — J.C. Penney, builder of a mammoth retail business that bears his name, died today. He was 95. He succumbed at 11:30 a.m. at the Harkness Pavilion of Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center, where he suffered a severe heart attack Thursday night, a spokesman for Penney said.

Penney, a Missouri farmer who took up retailing in 1895, saw his chain of stores grow to 1,700 around the nation. At 95, he still was at the helm of his enterprises, working five days a week at his desk in the 45-story Penney building on Sixth Avenue here.

James Cash Penney, one of 12 children raised on a farm in Hamilton, Mo., credited his father with "selecting my vocation" when he got a job for Penney as a store clerk at the age of 20.

"He went to a local merchant and said, 'I want you to take my boy Jim and teach him the fundamentals of business,'" said Penney once.

SAIGON (AP) — Twenty U.S. aircraft were reported today to have been shot down or crashed from unknown causes in Indochina, 19 of them supporting South Vietnamese campaigns in Laos and Cambodia.

At least 16 Americans were reported killed and 7 wounded in the crashes. The toll for the past five days was one of the heaviest for U.S. aircraft since the American operation in the A Shau Valley in April 1967.

The U.S. Command gave some idea of the magnitude of American air support in the Laos campaign by announcing that U.S. helicopters flew 500 missions across the border Thursday. These included troop-lifts, gunships, medical evacuation and resupply.

The U.S. Command disclosed the loss of 12 aircraft between Monday and today, announcing some of them in delayed reports. The command said all were destroyed and written off as total losses.

Pilots of one unit in Quang Tri in the northern sector told Associated Press correspondent Michael Putzel that eight more helicopters from their unit were shot down over Laos today. These were not reported by the U.S. command.

The pilots said two of the eight helicopters were destroyed, four others were recovered by larger helicopters that lifted them out and the status of the remaining two was unknown.

One pilot said "we are in over our heads, simply outclassed by the enemy's antiaircraft fire."

They said hundreds of U.S. helicopters drawn from units all over South Vietnam are taking part in the Laotian operation.

The command said 10 helicopters, one F4 fighter-bomber and a C123 transport that had been spraying against malarial mosquitoes had been lost in the past five days.

The South Vietnamese command reported that its troops and their heavy American air support killed 165 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong during the past 24 hours in the parallel drives against enemy supply lines through southern Laos and Cambodia. The Saigon headquarters said 13 of its men were killed and 66 wounded in more than half a dozen clashes.

The offensive into Cambodia began Feb. 3, the Laotian thrust five days later.

South Vietnamese forces sweeping through Laos also reported seizing four of the .51-caliber North Vietnamese machine guns that have been part of the heaviest antiaircraft fire American planes and helicopters have encountered in months.

Pentagon Does Not Want to Lose Power

By ROBERT DOBKIN

AP Military Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Pentagon sources say members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff are unhappy with Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird's plan to remove their control over the vast Defense Intelligence Agency.

There's been some opposition inside the JCS, the sources say, to the idea of eliminating them from the chain of command and having DIA report directly to Laird.

DIA has been under the joint chiefs' direct control since its creation in 1961 to supervise collection and processing of all intelligence information by the military services.

Laird announced in December he would tighten civilian control over military intelligence after years of criticism both in the Defense Department and Congress over performance of military intelligence agencies in worldwide operations.

Nixon Plans State of World Message

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — President Nixon, here for a long holiday weekend, set up a conference today with Secretary of State William P. Rogers and others to discuss his "state of the world" message for Congress.

Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, Nixon's principal foreign policy adviser and one of the conferees, announced the book-length document would be unveiled Feb. 25.

Besides Rogers and Kissinger, those who accompanied Nixon to sunny but chilly Florida Thursday included Mrs. Nixon, daughter Tricia, Director George P. Shultz of the Office of Management and Budget and H.R. Haldeman, White House chief of staff.

The foreign policy report, second in a series launched by Nixon last year, has been drafted by Kissinger and his National Security Council staff, with the State Department and other interested agencies offering comments.

Nixon's aim was to put the 65,000-word message in final form during the weekend.

Kissinger told reporters "some points of emphasis may be new" and elaboration offered on some existing policies. But in the main, he said, the message would express administration objectives and the rationale for current policies.

Kissinger said it would include a "fairly optimistic" assessment of prospects for eventual agreement with the Soviets on the limitation of strategic arms.

Hearing Aid Dispenser Is Charged

MAGNOLIA, Ark. (AP) — A hearing aid dispenser operating in Columbia County was charged in Municipal Court here Thursday with violating the state Hearing Aid Dispenser law.

Deputy Prosecutor Mike Kinard said the information was filed against a Texarkana man for allegedly violating a section of Act 197 of 1969. Kinard said the section requires any person who practices the fitting or dispensing of hearing aids to deliver to each purchaser a bill of sale containing his signature, business address, license number and a description of the hearing aid.

The charge arose out of the alleged sale of a $639.50 hearing aid to Mrs. Annie Bigelow, 85, of near Magnolia. Kinard said the complaint was made by Mrs. Bigelow, her son and Dr. Reuben Setliff of El Dorado, an ear specialist.

Setliff, who was appointed last month to the Board of Hearing Aid Dispensers, said at El Dorado that the case was another example of the negligence and ineffectiveness of the board.

"The least that we (the board) could do, it seems to me, is to outlaw the temporary licensing of hearing aid salesmen," Setliff said. He said that anyone with a high school education can acquire a temporary permit if he is sponsored by a licensed hearing aid salesman for six months.

"This is like a doctor performing surgery before he knows what is going on simply because he passed his medical exams," Setliff said.

Setliff said earlier in the week that he had written the attorney general's office complaining that the board had been negligent in its investigation of complaints.

Setliff said he believed there was a "very good" possibility the Arkansas legislature would approve a bill that would prohibit the temporary licensing of hearing aid salesmen.

himself.

Although the Jarring proposals have not been confirmed officially, Israeli newspapers report that they call for:

—Israeli withdrawal from the Sinai Desert;

—A U.N. peace force in Sharm el-Sheikh to guarantee Israeli shipping through the Strait of Tiran;

—A declaration by Egypt that it considers the war finally terminated and Israel's sovereignty and territorial integrity inviolable.

The sources said Jarring is expected to put forward proposals for a settlement between Israel and Jordan under which Jordan would control the Gaza Strip. The Gaza Strip, formerly Egyptian-held but now occupied by Israeli troops, has a largely Palestinian population.

Israeli spokesman have declined comment on the reported Jarring plan. But Foreign Minister Abba Eban is thought to have made an indirect reference to it Thursday. He said Israel is opposed to outside "dictates," including "all sorts of documents reaching Israel lately."

Egypt's semi-official newspaper Al-Ahram also reported that Jarring had delivered a memorandum to Israel, Egypt and Jordan. But it reported only that he asked for their "declarations of intentions" and said nothing about any specific proposals by him for a settlement.

Al-Ahram said the Egyptian government is making "detailed and important studies" of the memorandum and would deliver a reply sometime next week.

bursements increased by $6.75 million and reached an annual rate of $556.5 billion.

"The wage rise was broadly based, with all major industry groups recording increases," the department said.

"Rising employment, a longer work week, and higher hourly earnings contributed to the large advance in payrolls."

The department said wages and salaries in distributed industries rose $2.5 billion, the largest jump in more than two years.

Other gains were registered in service industries, with a boost of $1.5 billion and commodity producing industries, $500,000.

An increase of $1.25 billion in manufacturing payrolls was partially offset by declines in construction and mining payrolls.

Government payrolls advanced $2.5 billion, with a new federal pay raise for military and civilian workers adding most of that.

But the government pay raise was largely offset by an increase in Social Security tax rates, which reduced January income by about $1.75 billion.

Reluctantly, the veteran aircraft carrier Bon Homme Richard headed up the Pacific today to retire at Bremerton, Wash., after 26 years of active duty.

The departure from San Diego was delayed six hours when a steam line on the 33,100-ton flat-topped 45 minutes before sailing time Thursday. Crewmen repaired the line.

White Students Obituaries Walk Out at Watson Chapel

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — Between 300 and 400 white students walked out of classes at Watson Chapel High School near here Thursday, shortly after the district began operating under a court-ordered desegregation plan.

Later Thursday, the Watson Chapel Taxpayers Association announced that white students in the district would be asked to stay home from school today. The group also said it would take other measures to solidify resistance against the desegregation plan, but the other measures were not revealed.

No major incident was reported as the district's five schools opened for a half day under the plan that U.S. District Judge Oren E. Harris ordered implemented by noon Thursday.

Harris said later that "no one" would "interfere with the operation of the schools ... There will be no outside interference."

In another development, School Supt. Dale Spradlin and J. J. Schultz, a member of the board, signed an affidavit Thursday certifying that the desegregation plan had been implemented.

Harris said he would accept the order as being fulfilled, but after conferring with Justice Department lawyers, said he was withholding a written order. He said the court would retain jurisdiction until the situation was normal.

Two Negro women were arrested at Edgewood Elementary Thursday. Police said Wilma Hence was charged with disturbing the peace, resisting arrest, using abusive language to a police officer and assaulting a police officer and that Helen Collins was charged with disturbing the peace and resisting arrest.

A group of parents cheered the students who left class at Watson Chapel, the former predominantly white school that now is operating grades nine through 12 for all pupils in the district. The parents and students formed a column outside the school and marched about 1½ miles down U.S. 79. At that point, most of the marchers went home. Some, however, marched back to the school and held a brief rally across from the school.

There are about 600 white pupils and 435 blacks attending Watson Chapel High School. Dr. Mitchell Young of Texarkana, Tex., national president of two organizations that have been fighting for neighborhood schools, spoke at the rally saying, "what you're doing today is going to give the people the county to stand up against federal control of education."

Young, who heads organizations called Unified Concerned Citizens of America and Freedom Inc., said that "this is the beginning of the end of federal tyranny in our school system."

Spradlin talked with Harris Thursday and said the judge was satisfied with the manner in which the board implemented the desegregation plan. Spradlin said he believed "things were going along satisfactorily."

Some members of the school board, which fought implementation of the court's plan until Harris told them they would be fined and jailed if the plan was not implemented, lowered the flag at the school shortly after noon and were to present it to federal authorities to symbolize the "federal takeover" of the schools.

"We further endorse their efforts to prevent the destruction of quality education as the federal takeover of our public schools has proven that you cannot have both education and integration," the statement said.

Writer Told to Produce Notes

FT. BENNING, Ga. (AP) — Writer John Sack has been told again he must produce tapes and notes of interviews with My Lai defendant William L. Calley when the lieutenant's court-martial resumes Tuesday.

Col. Reid W. Kennedy, military judge in the trial, ordered Sack Thursday to produce the material, which was used in a series of articles in Esquire magazine. It was the second time Kennedy had called for the Sack notes and tapes.

Kennedy's new order was issued after Sack lost a move in federal court to prevent use of the material during the trial.

Ford Fund Came From Truck Group

By JAMES R. POLK

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford got campaign help from a lobbyist for the American Trucking Association who raised $4,500 through a Washington committee that kept the names of the donors secret.

The lobbyist, Harold O. Lovre, who is a former South Dakota congressman, refused to name the contributors. "You know very well all this is confidential," he said.

Lovre headed the "D.C. Committee for G.R. Ford" which, according to records in Michigan, pumped the $4,500 into two other campaign groups for Ford in the GOP leader's hometown of Grand Rapids.

Under a loophole in the law, fund-raising groups set up in the nation's capital do not have to file public reports identifying donors.

The Associated Press disclosed Thursday that Ford failed to report $11,500 in donations from stock brokers, an oilman, a union group, bankers and doctors last fall. The money was routed from Ford's own election committee to the GOP headquarters here before roughly the same amount was fed back to pay campaign debts.

Ford said this procedure was "within the law."

In an interview, Ford also said he had known Lovre since both entered Congress as GOP freshmen in 1949.

Lovre, who served in the House until 1958, said, "The reason I did this is we came down to Congress together. He's a friend. I was going to raise some money for him."

"He didn't know a damn thing about it. He didn't want to know, either," Lovre told a newsmen.

Ford said, "He asked me one time last spring, could he help in any way? I said if you want, to do it on your own."

Lovre said there were about 30 or 40 donations in total, and all were for small amounts. None of the money came from the ATA, he said.

The so-called "D.C. committees" are a popular device among many incumbent senators and congressmen to raise money from special interest groups in Washington without having to list the contributors.

Ford's counterpart, House Democratic Leader Hale Boggs of Louisiana, also benefited last year from a D.C. committee set up by a lobbyist for the U.S. Cane Sugar Refiners' Association.

The lobbyist, Irvin Hoff, had said previously that about 30 men gathered at a private home one night last summer to chip in whatever they wanted for Boggs' campaign.

TEACHERS TO

Thursday after meeting with teacher representatives.

In his message to the legislature, Bumpers proposed that teachers salaries be increased by an average of $400 in the fiscal year beginning July and by $500 in the following fiscal year.

The governor told newsmen he was agreeable to raising the salary $500 in the first fiscal year and $800 in the second fiscal year.

Mrs. Alice Glover of Little Rock, president-elect of the Arkansas Education Association, said the $1,100 would put the AEA request of a teacher increase of more than $1,300.

Mrs. Glover said the AEA would support Bumpers' proposed $26 million tax package, but at the same time it would support an effort to tap further tax sources to fulfill the AEA request of an additional $30 million for public education in the coming fiscal year.

The Representative Assembly of the AEA is to meet in Little Rock Friday to map strategy and descend on the Capitol to discuss its tax thoughts with legislators.

Representatives of the AEA and the Classroom Teachers Association met with Bumpers in the governor's office Thursday.

Bumpers later told newsmen that he told them he had no strong reservations about earmarking for teacher salaries "most or practically all" of the additional money he had proposed for public education in his presentation to the legislature last week, "provided we could establish that most of the school districts in the state have enough economic growth to operate on."

In other words, Bumpers said, he wants to make sure local school districts have sufficient funds for operations if state operational aid is diverted to salaries.

He said he would not propose allocating any additional money for public education to raise the teacher salaries from the $900 he had proposed for the biennium to the $1,100 he said he was agreeable to by transferring operations money.

He said not all school districts were in a position where their growth was sufficient to provide enough maintenance funds. "So, we may have to put some money in escrow for emergencies," Bumpers said.

"I asked the teachers to support my tax program in the belief that if this program did not pass in full, there is an excellent chance there might be no tax program," the governor said.

"I said I could not in good conscience ask for a sales tax increase without broadening the base (of the sales tax) and without restructuring the income tax, all of which would produce $65 million," he said.

"I said I would not present a tax package of that size, that I could not guarantee that I could spend it efficiently even if I got it passed," he said.

hotel where AFL-CIO leaders are holding their annual winter meetings, discounted any imminent bid by the Teamsters to return to the labor federation that booted them out on corruption charges 14 years ago.

He said he was here on other business, not to talk to AFL-CIO officials.

The Teamsters will hold their next presidential election at their convention here in July, when Hoffa's five-year term as head of the two million member union expires.

Fitzsimmons, Hoffa's hand-picked stand-in, has said he would run for Teamsters president in his own right if Hoffa is "unavailable."

Most Teamsters leaders have indicated Hoffa could be re-elected easily if he is freed before July without any parole board strictures against resuming union activity.

Hoffa has lost his appeal of a five-year mail fraud prison sentence in connection with a Teamsters pension loan scheme, but U.S. Justice Department officials have said the additional sentence would not bar him from parole eligibility in March.

Some members of the school board, which fought implementation of the court's plan until Harris told them they would be fined and jailed if the plan was not implemented, lowered the flag at the school shortly after noon and were to present it to federal authorities to symbolize the "federal takeover" of the schools.

"We further endorse their efforts to prevent the destruction of quality education as the federal takeover of our public schools has proven that you cannot have both education and integration," the statement said.

DAR Chapter Meets
"The American Indian" was the subject of a most interesting program presented by Mrs. Arthur Wimmell at the luncheon meeting of the John Cain Chapter, DAR, Wednesday, February 10 at the Town and Country. During this American History Month it was quite appropriate to discuss a native American.

The speaker told of archaeological "digs" near Lewisville and burial mounds at Murfreesboro which had revealed much about the Indian culture in Southwest Arkansas. She showed baskets bought in Arizona, jewelry from New Mexico and a magazine published in Oklahoma to further explain her subject. Interesting narration included facts about early women's rights among the Indians, romance among the Cherokees, the accomplishments of Sequoia in devising a written language for his people, and the infamous Trail of Tears which resulted when the Indians were pushed westward.

Indian artifacts and salmon-colored glazes decorated the head table, where the Regent, Mrs. John Keck, presided over the meeting. After the ritual, a business meeting was held. Mrs. Richards Howard was chosen as the delegate to the Continental Congress, and the state conference was also discussed. Mrs. Joe Kessey gave a National Defense report which dealt with Behavior-Modifying Drugs being given to school children and the Problems of Pollution created by everyone.

During the social hour, strawberry cake, nuts, coffee or tea were served to 13 members and the guest speaker.

This column is for young people, their problems and pleasures, their troubles and fun. As with the rest of Helen Help Us!, it welcomes laughs but won't dodge a serious question with a brush-off.

Send your teenage questions to YOUTH ASKED for it, care of Helen Help Us! this newspaper.

SEVERAL KINDS OF COWARDICE

Dear Helen: There's a man in our office who is a completely true husband (maybe because he is afraid to be otherwise), but to hear him talk, he's the greatest chaser since Don Juan.

He tries to give the impression he's a swinger when really, the secretaries would like him so much better if he'd just admit he likes his wife and kids. What do you say to a man like this? — FRIEND

Dear Friend:

If you're friendly enough to be frank, why not suggest that he "show the courage of his convictions"? ... and go on from there. —H.

Dear Helen: At our church, we pass around a little pouch for collections, so that people who can't afford to match the bills already there can put in what they wish, sight unseen.

But there is one person who always puts his closed fist into the bag, pretends to drop something—and never does. He even goes through the motion of reaching into his pocket first, but I know there's nothing in his hand.

Now if a man wants free religion, that's his business, but does he think he's fooling God—or the person sitting next to him? I'll bet he reports a wad of "church contributions" on his income tax!

One wonders if his prayers are answered in the same proportion as are those of us who put $2.00 in the collection pouch every Sunday? —T.W.Y.

Dear T.: Probably, God doesn't charge for answering prayers, (though He is not exactly partial to hypocrites.) —Helen Bottel

You asked for opinions about trial marriages, and you've heard a few in favor from the young generation. Here's what a parent thinks:

Nothing important or lasting happens without commitment. A short term contract of marriage by its nature excludes any real commitment. If there is an easy way out of problems, there is no motivation to work toward a lasting solution. How many people would stay together if they could leave with a snap of their fingers? What would that do to the home and family?

Besides, the first five years even of a good marriage are never the best. Adjustments take time. If a couple doesn't feel it is building toward a future, the two won't bother to make them.

And what if one person wants out but the other doesn't? Just because there is no lasting contract, does that make the heartbreak any less? I won't mention possibility of children, for I imagine the "trial contract" would be different in case of progeny.

After 17 years of marriage, ours is more exciting than ever. But if we had been given a choice after a year, we might have split. —S.H.

Dear Helen:

I certainly agree with the father who wanted trial marriages, in ONE respect: There should be an end to elaborate weddings that cost $2500.00! But perhaps if he had instilled more faith, hope, and charity into his children's lives they might not have insisted on lavish weddings that would end in divorce a year later. — ANOTHER FATHER

Dear Helen:

We had a six-year "engagement" which might be considered a "trial marriage" for we lived together three years before deciding we were ready to make it for a lifetime. We've never regretted this. During the "trial" we were more at ease, for we weren't being forced to stay

Kittycats Win Over Bradley

By BILL MOORE
Star Sports Writer

One down and an expected hair-raiser coming up tonight.

One down means the Hope Kittycats defeated the Bradley Bears at Lewisville, last night, in the junior girls district tournament.

And the expected hair-raiser is the game tonight which pits the Kittycats against the toughest of them all, Stephens.

Although falling back early, the Kittycats regained the lead and stayed ahead all the way to win in a game marked with bad passes and turnovers.

With Bradley taking an early 4-0 jump on goals by Betty Hinds and Melinda Works, the Bears then cooled down and Hope started to work.

With 4:32 to go in the first stanza, Jill Herring sank a free throw and Gigi Gladney added a field goal to pull Hope within one before a timeout was called.

As play resumed, Gladney and Herring both from the circle to give the Kittycats a 7-4 margin, now moving into the second period.

Neither team could score early in the second period, until Coleman hit a layup with 3:16 left in the half. Following goals by Herring and Gladney upped the lead to 13-4, and shortly afterward, in between two field goals by Coleman, Works hit the only two points of the quarter for Bradley.

Hope led at halftime, 17-6, and a good second half was promised.

For the first few minutes, only Gladney could hit the net, meanwhile Bradley hit various free throws, pulling within six, 19-13.

With 2:11 left in the period, Herring popped in a two pointer from the free throw line and 15 seconds later Gladney drove in with a stolen ball for two, to pull the Kittycats back out to a 10 point lead.

Later, with one second showing on the clock, Herring sank a pair of charity shots, and the Kittycats began the last quarter with a 26-17 margin.

Although getting the tipoff, Hope could not score and after Works had hit four points to pull Bradley within five, Coleman matched that with two baskets within 30 seconds of each other.

However, after Gladney netted two free shots with 3:45 to play, the Kittycats went cold on their shooting and then it was up to the defense. In the last minute the offense put on a good stalling play eating up the clock till the end, while Bradley only scored six points, which wasn't enough.

Gladney led the Kittycats scoring with 12 points, while Coleman sacked 11, and Herring popped in nine. Works led Bradley with 16.

Also, the defensive unit must be given their share of the credit, as they stole the ball and blocked shots many different times. Members of the rough defensive three are Carol Frazier, Mona Rowe, and Sharon Ratliff, with Sandra McCorkle also seeing action. Pogs Griffin also saw offensive playing time.

Returning to Lewisville tonight, the Kittycats will do battle with the rough team from Stephens. Earlier in the year, Stephens defeated Hope fairly easy, but those Kittycats have improved and in the district tournament, Hope's not about to let it happen again.

Carr's 37 Not Enough for Irish

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Notre Dame Carr continues to run like a Berserk time bomb.

But Villanova, it seems, has a better idea with Ford.

Irrepressible Austin Carr drove home 37 points in his usual high octane performance, although it didn't help the Fighting Irish.

Chris Ford clicked with 11 assists, most of them to hot-handed Howard Porter, as 18th-ranked Villanova cruised by No. 9 Notre Dame 99-81 in college basketball Thursday night.

Ford, also scoring 14 points, manipulated the Villanova players like marionettes with Porter on the receiving end of his bullet handouts. Porter, a 6-foot-8 jack-in-the-box, slammed in 35 points and collected 15 rebounds as the Wildcats accelerated to their 18th victory in 23 contests.

Villanova, strengthening its bid for an at-large NCAA post season tournament invitation, had the contest sewn up early as Porter scored 20 points and Hank Siemionkowski, 17 of his 29 in the first half. Their high scoring, sparked by Ford's throws, gave the Wildcats an unsurmountable 54-33 halftime margin.

It was all down hill after that for Villanova, despite Carr's runaway performance. The Fighting Irish, only team to knock off No. 1 UCLA this year, fell behind by as many as 24 points and dropped their record to 12-6.

Sixth-ranked Jacksonville smashed William & Mary 100-69; No. 20 Fordham streaked to its 17th victory in 18 games by disposing of Rhode Island 109-87; St. John's of New York tipped Niagara 82-71; Drake ambushed Bradley 113-78; Dayton stopped Cincinnati 70-69; Louisville struck down Wichita 94-85 and Georgetown beat New York University 91-80 and Rutgers clubbed West Virginia in a doubleheader at New York's Madison Square Garden in other top games.

Ernie Fleming scored 30 points and sky-reaching Artis Gilmore garnered 14 rebounds as Jacksonville won its 11th in a row and 17th of 19 games.

Charlie Yelverton scored 27 points as Fordham's red-hot Rams clicked on 65 per cent of their field goal tries. The winners, leading 52-45 at the half, broke it open with a 10-2 jag after intermission.

Sophomore whiz Mel Davis gunned in 31 points and Greg Cleuss added 21 in the St. John's success; Tom Bush collected 21 points as Drake hit 58 per cent from the field against Bradley; Al Bertke, who hadn't made a shot all night, hit a 10-footer with one second to go for Dayton; Al Vilcheck led Louisville with 31 points; Mike Laughna flipped in a career-high 35 points to fire the Georgetown victory and John McFadden set a Madison Square Garden regular season record with 14 assists as Rutgers crushed West Virginia with an unmanageable fast break.

Elsewhere, Richmond beat Furman 106-87; Tulsa whipped North Texas State, 89-84; Boston University turned back Brandeis 85-75 and George Washington spilled Miami 83-81.

Anderson, Neely Enter Hall of Fame

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J. (AP) — Jess Neely and Dr. Eddie Anderson, two former coaches whose teams won more than 200 games, have been elected to the College Football Hall of Fame, the National Football Foundation announced today.

Neely, who retired Jan. 1 as athletic director at Vanderbilt, coached at Southwestern of Tennessee, Clemson and Rice before his retirement from active coaching in 1968. He took Rice to six bowl games and posted more victories than any other coach in the Southwest Conference.

Anderson, now a senior physician at Mansfield State Training School in Connecticut, coached at Loras, DePaul, Holy Cross and Iowa. He turned out such great players as 1939 Heisman Trophy winner Nile Kinnick at Iowa and George Ginter and Bill Ostrowski at Holy Cross.

Little Men Win Battle of Giants

By BOB GREENE
Associated Press Sports Writer

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Lew Alcindor won his "battle of the giants," but it was the "little" superstars that decided the game.

Milwaukee's 7-foot-2 sophomore center scored 31 points and grabbed 21 rebounds as the Bucks demolished the Los Angeles Lakers, 122-88, in a National Basketball Association game Thursday night.

In other games, San Diego beat San Francisco 119-111 and Seattle defeated Cincinnati 119-101.

In the American Basketball Association, Virginia trimmed the Floridians 125-119 and Pittsburgh upended New York 114-110.

The Lakers' 7-foot-1 Wilt Chamberlain, the greatest scoring machine the NBA has ever seen, tallied just 25 points and picked off 11 caroms.

Still, it was the other two superstars on the court that made the big difference.

Milwaukee's Oscar Robertson pumped in 19 points, grabbed nine rebounds and was credited with nine assists.

The Lakers' Jerry West was held to just six points, hitting only one of seven shots from the field, and watched the game deflected from the bench as time ran out.

Tight-lipped and talking even softer than usual, West intimated afterwards that the Laker defeat could be pinned on Chamberlain getting the ball too much.

"You've got to move the ball to win," West said. "We had been moving the ball well and not going in to Wilt. I think we went to him too much tonight."

Chamberlain, not surprisingly, disagreed.

"We just weren't hitting out shots," the former Kansas star said.

It was in the first half that Alcindor, a sophomore in the NBA, handed Chamberlain, in his 12th year in the league, his worst beating of their two-year-old rivalry.

In the first two periods, Alcindor popped in 22 points and grabbed 17 rebounds, while Chamberlain was limited to 12 and seven.

"You're not going to contain guys like Lew or Oscar all of the time," Chamberlain said.

"You've got to score on your end of the floor in order to stick with the Bucks."

West, however, never mentioned the Lakers' anemic 32 per cent shooting from the floor.

Calvin Murphy came off the bench to key San Diego's conquest of San Francisco. Murphy collected 10 points in the fourth quarter after the Rockets' 23-point lead in the second period had been wiped out by the Warriors.

San Francisco had cut the deficit to 84-79 when Murphy took over. He wound up with 26 points while teammate Stu Lantz topped San Diego with 31.

Nate Thurmond led the Warriors with 29 points and he also held the Rockets' high-scoring Elvin Hayes to 16. Jeff Mullins added 27 for San Francisco.

Seattle snapped a four-game losing streak at the expense of Cincinnati behind Dick Snyder and Spencer Haywood. Snyder scored 31 points and Haywood contributed 28.

Haywood's field goal late in the third quarter put Seattle ahead for keeps 71-70.

Tom Van Arsdale kept the Royals in contention with 22 points and rookie Sam Lacey added 21.

Player-coach Lenny Wilkens of the SuperSonics was sidelined with an infection.

Palmer Still Looking for Right Putter

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Arnold Palmer's new putter failed to provide the confidence he seeks so he plans to change right at the point of sharing the lead in the $140,000 Bob Hope Desert Classic golf tournament.

Struggling for his first victory in 14 months, Palmer carded a 71 in the second round of the 90-hole tourney to deadlock with Bob Murphy, George Hixon, and Bert Yancey going into today's third 18-hole round.

After a first round 67 when he thought his new putter was behaving, Palmer battled the Tamarisk course to a one-under-par 71 and 138 for the 36 holes. Yet on the first six, he missed putts of six, three and eight feet as his miseries of the greens continued.

"I'm still searching for that putting stroke or the satisfaction of having a little more confidence in it," said the man who has won more money at the game than anyone. "Until I find it, it still is a little guessing game on the greens. Still haven't total confidence, but its getting better and I don't expect miracles."

Palmer birdied the 10th and 12th holes after going out in even par 36 and at that point he had the tournament lead to himself. But on the 14th, the 41-year-old missed the green on a 253-yard par three, blasted up to 12 feet and missed the putt.

"Generally my tee shots were better than on the first round," he commented. "I hit a couple I didn't like but I think I know the problem."

We'll find out at Indian Wells.

Asked if he planned to change putters, Arnie answered quickly, "Yes, I think I will."

He was slated to play the Indian Wells course today with his final two rounds at Bermuda Dunes.

With only two of the five scheduled rounds completed, the battle for the $28,000 top prize appeared wide open. Murphy, who won $120,639 last year, fired a second round 68 at Bermuda Dunes while Yancey had a 69 and Hixon, a relative unknown from Tulsa, Okla., a 70 over the same course.

Friday, February 12, 1971

Masters champion Billy Casper, a former Hope winner, carded a 68 at Tamarisk in 91 degree heat. Ray Floyd, former PGA champ, had a 71 at the same course. Roberto Bernardini, a rookie PGA pro from Rome, Italy, was in the 139 group with Casper, Floyd and three others after shooting a 72.

Yancey twice had sharp words with photographers, his ire first aroused when he reached the green at the ninth hole he played in two, already three strokes under par. He three-putted.

"When you're looking for something to upset you and it comes along you make excuses," a calmed-down Yancey commented. "I probably would have missed the putt anyway."

Yancey, winner of six tournaments on the PGA tour, added, "The scores aren't as low as I thought they would be," and on the photographer hassle, he said, "I have to apologize to one guy."

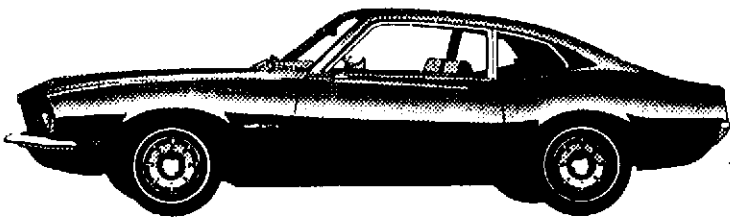

Hixon, whose best finish in a tournament has been a tie for 20th, reeled off four straight birdies on his final nine holes with putts of 25 feet, 10, 8 and 10.

Despite Yancey's appraisal, there were 43 golfers in the field of 136 under par for the first two rounds. First round leader Marty Fleckman just stayed in that group. With a 77 added to his opening 66, he wound up at 143, just one under. Two of Fleckman's shots sailed out of bounds.

Under the Hope tournament format, each of the pros plays a different course each of the opening four days and each time with a different three-man amateur team. After Saturday, the field is cut to 70 for the finals at Bermuda Dunes.

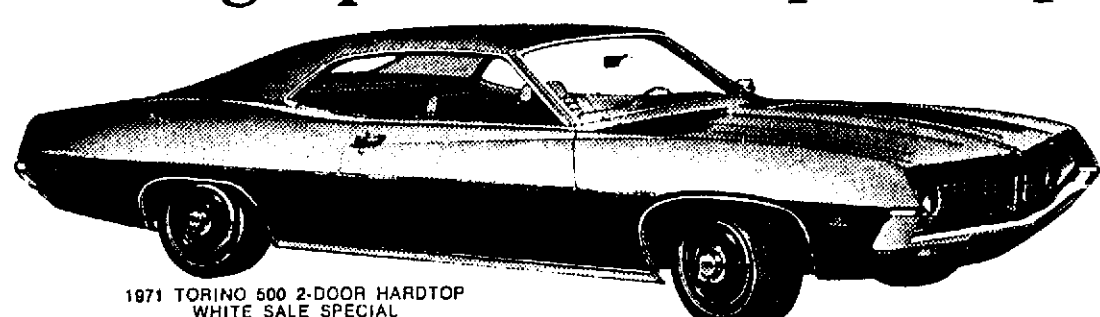

Palmer, three times the Hope winner, was the champion here last in 1968 when, like this time, he played his final two rounds at Bermuda Dunes.

Arnie may not command the most attention Saturday at Bermuda Dunes.

Carves Line for Himself in NHL Book

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Dynamic Jean Beliveau has carved another line for himself in the National Hockey League record book.

Beliveau exploded a three-goal hat-trick Thursday night, becoming the fourth player in NHL history to reach the 500-goal plateau. The three goals helped Montreal to a 6-2 victory over Minnesota.

In Thursday's only other NHL game, Ed Westfall scored three goals and Boston whipped St. Louis 5-3.

Captain of the Canadiens and an 18-year NHL veteran, Beliveau wasted no time reaching 500 once he got started Thursday night. He scored twice in the first period and then hit again at 6:42 of the second as a jammed Montreal Forum exploded in cheers.

"Well, of course, I knew that I was getting close to the 500 figure," Beliveau said later. "But I honestly didn't think much about it until I got my second goal of the game, which made my total count 499."

Passes by rookie Phil Roberto and veteran Frank Mahovlich set up Beliveau's historic No. 500.

"When I was a kid," said Roberto, "I had Beliveau and Mahovlich for my heroes. I never dreamed I'd get to play on a line with them. And, as for assisting on Jean's 500th goal, it's just too much. It's terrific."

Beliveau said he'd gladly pass both his stick and the puck on to the Hockey Hall of Fame if they are requested.

"For the moment, I'm going to keep them," he said. "But I would give them to the Hall of Fame. People have been very nice to me during my long career, hockey has been very good to me, and I feel it would be a gesture on my part to give the stick and puck to the Hall."

Hockey's other 500-goal men are Detroit's Gordie Howe, the all-time leader with 781, and Chicago's Bobby Hull and the retired Maurice Richard of Montreal, tied for second with 544.

Seeks Record in Contest With Porks

DALLAS (AP) — The magic number for Gene Phillips is his average—28 points a game.

If the Southern Methodist gunner hits 28 points against Arkansas Saturday he will shatter the Southwest Conference basketball career record of 1,753 points set by the late Jim Krebs of SMU in 1955-57.

Phillips of Houston has a career total of 1,726 through 87 games. Krebs set his standard in 82 contests.

The other SWC leaders include Texas Tech's Gene Lowery with an 86.9 percentage from the free throw line; Pat Fees of Baylor with a 63.2 percentage from the field; and Eugene (Goo) Kennedy of Texas Christian with an average of 15.4 rebounds per game.

Fort Marcy to Run at Hialeah

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Fort Marcy, the Horse of the Year for 1970 makes his first start as a 7-year-old in the $50,000-added Bougainvillea Handicap at Hialeah Saturday.

Sharing the headlines in the weekend thoroughbred sport is the running of the first 100-grandder of 1971, the $133,600 Charles H. Strub Stakes for 4-year-olds at Santa Anita.

Fort Marcy, owned by financier Paul Mellon and trained by Elliott Burch, hasn't started since he won the Washington, D.C. International at Laurel in November.

That triumph not only earned the gelded son of Amerigo the Horse of the Year honors, but also the national grass course championship as well as making him an equine millionaire with earnings of $1,043,280.

Fort Marcy, who will be ridden by Jorge Velasquez, is the top weight at 126 pounds in the Bougainvillea at 13-16th mile over grass. He has been training well for his 1971 debut against a field likely to include Drumtop, Chompon, Mongo's Pride and Shelter Bay.

William Haggin Perry's Loud, the top weight at 119 pounds, heads a field of 13 in the 1 1/4 mile Strub. It would occasion no surprise, however, if Hanalei Bay or Willowick, each at 118, win. Willowick won the recent San Fernando Stakes in which Loud was the beaten favorite.

Elsewhere on Saturday are the $20,000 Southern Maryland Handicap at Bowie, the $20,000 Pelletieri Handicap at the Fair Grounds in New Orleans and the $15,000 Hot Springs Handicap at Oaklawn Park.

Towzie Tyke, the high weight at 123, heads the probabilities for the Southern Maryland, a six-furlong sprint for 3-year-olds.

The Hot Springs, a six-furlong race for Arkansas Derby hopefuls, is headed by Staunch Avenger unbeaten in four career starts.

Hamilton, Pearson Are Rated High

By BLOYS BRITT
AP Auto Racing Writer

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Old pro David Pearson and newlyweds Pete Hamilton joined front-row starters A. J. Foyt and Bobby Isaac today as solid favorites in Sunday's Daytona 500.

In fact, several drivers emerged from a pair of 125-mile qualifying heats Thursday to make up a growing list of contenders for the $43,500 first prize in America's richest stock car race.

Hamilton, triumphant in the 1970 Daytona 500 in only his second try, broke around the venerable Foyt with 300 yards to go and beat the Texan to the wire by inches in the first race.

Pearson, by contrast, had to hold off a charging Buddy Baker to take a car-length victory in the second race, giving a crowd of 30,000 two of the closest finishes yet at Daytona International Speedway.

The two races not only provided 38 starters for Sunday's classic but indicated that at least 20 cars will be able to run with the leaders.

Hamilton's average speed for the first heat was 175.029 m.p.h. Pearson averaged 168.727 m.p.h. despite a yellow light that slowed the pace for three laps.

Neither speed was close to the 125-mile record of 183.295 set by Cale Yarborough last year. The 1971 cars, however, have been hobbled by carburetor restrictor plates that cut their speed drastically.

Foyt and Isaac won Sunday's front row starting positions by turning the fastest laps in time trials last Saturday. Foyt, driving a Mercury, got the pole with a speed of 182.744 m.p.h. Isaac's Dodge posted 180.050.

The first 14 finishers behind the winner of Thursday's heats were guaranteed starting spots in the 40-car field behind the front row of Foyt and Isaac. The other 10 spots were reserved for drivers who turned top qualifying speeds but finished low in the heat events.

Foyt, Hamilton and all-time stock car great Richard Petty treated the sun-splashed crowd to a three-car duel in the first race.

By slip-streaming each other, they never were more than four car lengths apart except when stopping for fuel. And it was this slip-streaming, or drafting, technique that cost Foyt the victory.

Hamilton was running in third behind Foyt and Petty with two circuits of the 2.5 mile trioval to go. But the bridegroom of two weeks broke Petty's draft going into the long back stretch and moved in behind Foyt.

Then as the three cars roared into the fourth turn to complete the final lap, Hamilton whipped out from behind the three-time Indianapolis winner and beat him to the wire in almost a dead heat.

Seven other cars, including those of Petty, Lee Roy Yarborough, Fred Lorenzen and Donnie Allison came home in a group several seconds back.

Pearson, three-time winner of the Grand National driving title, held off the strapping Baker and unhealed Dick Brooks in a finish that was scarcely less spectacular than the first one.

Baker made his bid at about the same spot on the trioval where Hamilton took Foyt, but the same "slight-shot" maneuver didn't work for Baker, son of driving great Buck Baker. Brooks trailed the two front runners across by about 50 feet.

Nicklaus Tests and Likes PGA Course

PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. (AP) — Former champion Jack Nicklaus tested the site of the 1971 PGA Championship and liked what he saw.

"It's a great course ... a fine golfing test," Nicklaus played several balls Thursday around the PGA National East Course, where the Professional Golfers Association plays its showdown Feb. 25-28.

"Stronger players have an advantage," he said. "Water comes into play on several holes, but the wind is the real demon you have to contend with."

Nicklaus, one of golf's longest hitters, was forced to use a three-wood on one par-three hole. "It was 232 yards into the wind," he said.

Nicklaus lives within minutes of PGA National Club, but had not played the course since 1966 when he teamed with Arnold Palmer to win the National Four-Ball Tourney.

"I made some notes and pretty well charted the course," he said. "It played tough, but fair ... about like it was in '66."

Nicklaus termed the rough as "severe as it can be in Florida this time of year." He said it wasn't as tough as that on most U.S. Open courses.

"Most pros can reach the par-five greens with two woods if the wind isn't beating you back," he said. "I used an iron on No. 12 and probably could have used an iron on another par five."

Nicklaus—winner of three Masters, two U.S. Opens and two British Opens—needs to complete a double slam.

A great majority of the stories told about Abraham Lincoln give examples of his conversational ability.

We have just come across one that has so far been overlooked by historians. Perhaps the reason for this is that contract bridge was not invented until four score years after his death.

North was delighted to let the great emancipator play at three no-trump. His club suit might well produce six tricks and it is almost always better to try for a nine-trick, instead of an 11-trick game, when you don't hold a singleton.

West opened the jack of hearts and after slight study to Analyze the lead and Review the bidding, Mr. Lincoln let the jack hold.

West continued with the 10 and Abe was on lead. It was a simple matter to take the club finesse. It lost but since East was out of hearts the best play he could find was a diamond return.

South was tempted to try the diamond finesse. The game was match-point duplicate. East and West were playing preemptive jump overcalls and West had already shown up with a good six-card heart suit, but Mr. Lincoln could now count nine sure tricks and the contract looked like a very good one. He rose with the ace and cashed out.

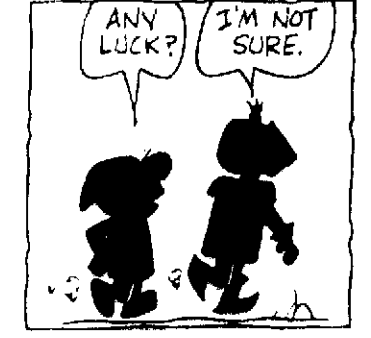

"Nicely played, Mr. President," said Andrew Johnson who was dummy.

"Thank you," replied Honest Abe. "In my youth I used to split rails, but I don't always split honors at this stage in life."

Best Margarines: Least Amount of Saturated Fat

By LAWRENCE E. LAMB, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—Since my wife and I are both cholesterol-conscious, your article, "Unsaturated Fat Has Less Hydrogen," was of great interest to us. We checked 24 brands at the supermarket and ALL were partially hydrogenated. Just where do we find polyunsaturated margarine? I am sure many of your readers would like your further help in solving this problem.

Dear Reader—The best you can do is select a margarine with the least amount of saturated fat. Since foods are poorly labeled, it is somewhat of a guessing game. The margarines containing the most unsaturated fat and therefore the most desirable are made of corn oil or safflower oil. Other oils are not as desirable. The ones with the least amount of hydrogen added are the softest at the same temperature. They are usually packed in a small tub as opposed to the traditional quarter-pound cubes. If foods were clearly labeled, this problem could be solved more accurately.

Dear Dr. Lamb—I read an article that said lecithin was an absolute must for everyone as a nerve tonic. Do you recommend taking lecithin and if so how can a person get it.

Dear Reader—There is very little factual information on lecithin. The word comes from Greek meaning egg yolk and the substance is found in egg yolk and brain. It is a form of unsaturated fat. Large amounts of either egg yolk or brain are not desirable if one wants to limit his intake of cholesterol.

There is no evidence that lecithin must be added to a normal diet nor that it causes any ill effects if taken in reasonable amounts. My advice is to forget about it and eat a reasonable diet. That will be a lot better nerve tonic than any lecithin pills.

Dear Dr. Lamb—A lot of people seem to be taking vitamin E these days and some claim it is good for almost everything. Do you recommend it and how much should a person take?

Dear Reader—This is a three digits local Zip code), Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019.

Elements in Sea

The element vanadium was not known to exist in sea water until it was discovered in the blood of tunicates and sea cucumbers. Although iodine is rather scarce in ocean water, seaweeds contain vast amounts of it.

very controversial subject. Vitamin E deficiencies in animals (chiefly caged rats) do produce a variety of changes, particularly those related to reproduction. Even muscle destruction is observed. People are not rats.

Man requires vitamin E but he can hardly escape getting it while eating a normal diet. Vitamin E is in unmilled cereals, hence wheat germ is a good source for it. Corn oil contains large amounts of it. Most people get far more than any apparent requirement just from their daily diet. There is no evidence of toxic reactions in man even from taking rather larger doses.

I am suspicious that for the average person eating a reasonable diet taking vitamin E does nothing more than enrich the manufacturer's pocketbook. If you are interested in rat fertility, that is another matter.

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford failed to report $11,500 in campaign contributions last fall from stock brokers, an oilman, bankers, doctors and a union group.
Instead, the checks given to Ford were detoured through Republican headquarters, while roughly the same amount $12,233—was being fed back to Ford's district to pay off post-election debts.
Through this two-step procedure, names of the special interest groups were not listed on Ford's sworn campaign report to Congress, although the money flowed through his hands.
The Corrupt Practices Act requires full public disclosure of all campaign contributions received with a candidate's knowledge or consent.
In an interview, Ford defended his procedures in handling campaign checks as being "within the law."
The Michigan congressman said he signed the checks over to the GOP because he had reached his state's legal limit on the money his own campaign committee could handle. He said he had no knowledge of the GOP giving back more than $12,000 to other Ford committees.
Not listed on Ford's report to the House were:
—a $5,000 check from the Securities Industry Campaign Committee. The $5,000 donation to Ford was the largest single contribution made by the Wall Street stock brokers' fund.
—a $2,000 check from the Bankers Political Action Committee, whose money was refused by nearly half the intended recipients in a controversy over a pending bill on bank regulation.
—a $3,000 check from John M. Shaheen, head of a New York City oil firm with refineries in Canada, California and Arkansas.
—a $1,000 check from the political arm of the Boilermakers-Blacksmiths union with national headquarters in Kansas City, Kans.
—a $500 check from the Michigan Doctors Political Action Committee.
Unlike most candidates, Ford acted as treasurer of his main campaign group the "Ford for Congress Committee," and therefore was bound by the Corrupt Practices Act to file a complete report of its money dealings.
In the 45-year history of the Corrupt Practices Act, the Justice Department has never brought a court case against a congressman for campaign wrongdoing.
The $11,500 in Ford campaign contributions was turned over to the Republican Congressional Committee in a 10-day period just before and after the Nov. 3 election.
A second group, the Republican National Finance Advisory Committee, which is run by the same man at GOP headquarters, sent four checks totaling $6,760 to two other Grand Rapids committees, "Latvians for Ford," and "Veterans for Ford" last Nov. 4 and Nov. 20.

NEW YORK (AP) — Pablo Picasso has given to the Museum of Modern Art a sculpture called "Guitar," from his closely hoarded classic Cubist period collection.

The sculpture was made in 1912.

GULLIBLE GULLS are fooled by this wooden owl in Zurich, Switzerland. For some unknown reason, sea gulls were attracted to a resident's house until he installed this wooden eagle owl on his rooftop.

Let's make St. Valentine's Day unanimous. Let's say "I love you" to at least one other person. It is a bright and good day in the Christian calendar. Every one of us is the better man because he dares to love. The heart and the cross belong together. You cannot truly love without honoring the principle of sacrifice. Saint Valentine was a Christian martyr, beheaded by Claudius, emperor of Rome about the year 50 A.D. He loved enough to surrender his life in the service of God. The heart and the cross tell us that God is love, that he loved enough to give all for us. Will St. Valentine succeed in winning you and me to a genuine love for God that will not count the cost? The best text for St. Valentine's Day is John 3:16.

New Members of Legislature Organize Freshman Caucus

Arkansans Hill, Salb Tops in Meet

HOUSTON (AP) — The third annual Astrodome-Federation Track and Field Meet gets under way today with many of the nation's top athletes competing in the two-day event.

Fifty-two events are scheduled during the meet which ends Saturday night.

Fourteen world records were established in the first two Astrodome meets.

Marty Liquori of Villanova is the top man in the mile run field. His best effort was 3:45.1. His supremacy on the Astrodome boards will be challenged by Villanova teammate Chris Mason who has 3:59.9 and Bowling Green's Dave Wottle who has recorded a 3:59.0.

The 100-yard dash competition has 14 entries timed in 9.4 or better. Rocky Thompson of West Texas State with his 9.2 heads the list. Four others have recorded times of 9.32.

Thomas Hill of Arkansas State tops the 120-yard high hurdles competitors. He has tied a world record of 13.2. Colorado's Marcus Walker is close behind with a 13.3.

Karl Salb of Kansas leads the shot putters. His best effort has been 67-5/8.

Southern California's Henry Hines has a 26.5 as a long jump best.

Fifteen high jumpers who have cleared 6-10 or better are entered. Florida's Ron Jourdan with a 7-2 is top competitor.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Possibly the race of the racer of the Times Indoor Games tonight is the two-mile run because two of the runners seem likely favorites with a third a sentimental choice.

Though the meet is studded with stars, from the 100 through the shot put and including races like the 1,000-yard run and the mile, the two-mile is the one fans are looking forward to most.

Twenty-two laps after the field takes off, fans will know whether Australian Kerry O'Brien can halt the two favorites who are, incidentally, the co-record holders in the indoor two-mile.

George Young of Casa Grande, Ariz., and Kerry Peace of Australia have both done 8:27.2 in the event-est ever-and they are challenged by none other than the world's best 3,000-meter steeplechaser, O'Brien.

The run is not just a three-man race, either. Others in the field are Rashid Sharafyeldinov of the Soviet Union, Russia's 5,000-meter record holder, Arne Kvalheim, former Oregon star, and even Frank Shorter, America's successful distance runner a year ago in overseas track meets.

O'Brien says if the pace is fast 4:09 for the first mile or better-then the world record should tumble. If not, the finish could be the maddest scramble ever on a banked, wooden track.

Ralston Going Good But Laver Favored

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—California's Dennis Ralston unseated last year's runner-up in the Philadelphia International Indoor Tennis Championships Thursday night to move to the quarter final round of the $62,500 event.

Ralston's hard fought 7-5, 6-4, victory over Australian Tony Roche duplicated a similar trouncing of the Aussie two weeks ago in the $10,000 Tennis Champions Classic Series. Roche was seeded fourth while Ralston was seeded tenth.

Rod Laver, the favorite to win the $10,000 first prize, continued to move up by overcoming fellow Australian John Alexander, 6-4, 6-2. Laver has won the Philadelphia tournament for the past two years.

Seventh-seeded Tom Okker of Holland was in sharp form in prevailing by 6-3, 6-2 over Bob Lutz, a member of last year's United States Davis Cup team.

New Zealand's Brian Fairlie defeated eighth-seeded Andres Gimeno of Spain 5-7, 7-6, 7-6 af-

Buchanan to Risk His World Title

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Scotland's world lightweight champion, Ken Buchanan, risks his newly won title for the first time tonight against Ruben Navarro, a local kid who had just three days notice he would collide with the king of the 135-pounders.

The 15-round match, with the 23-year-old Navarro substituting for the ailing No. 1 challenger, Mando Ramos, goes on in the Sports Arena.

It will be telecast via satellite to England but will not be aired in this country. Fight time is set for 10 p.m. PST.

The 25-year-old Buchanan from Edinburgh is favored by about 3-1 to retain the crown he won on points from Ismael Laguna in Puerto Rico last Sept. 26.

Navarro is no ordinary substitute, however. He's rated generally as No. 3 in the world, has won 10 straight matches and as a one-time school chum put it, "Any kid who can fight his way out of the barrios of East Los Angeles has got to know how to fight—and Ruben does."

Aileen Eaton, the lady promoter for the Olympic Boxing Club, had expected a possible sellout of more than 16,000. The best guess is there will be a drop in attendance—not because of a replacement such as Navarro but because all the pre-fight interest here centered on Mando Ramos and his chance to regain the title he lost last March to Laguna in this same Sports Arena.

Buchanan has won 38 matches and his only defeat was by decision to Miguel Velasquez in Madrid in January 1970.

Navarro learned of his chance late last Tuesday.

Sixth-seeded Roy Emerson prevailed in a close contest with fellow Australian Bob Carmichael 6-4, 6-7, 6-3.

Cliff Drysdale of South Africa had his two-handed drives working accurately and defeated Australian left-hander Owen Davidson 7-5, 7-5.

John Newcombe, the third-seeded contender from Australia and Arthur Ashe, first-seeded American, also triumphed and completed the matches in the second round.

Newcombe, the Wimbledon champion, volleyed sharply in achieving a 6-1, 6-4 victory over Great Britain's left-hander, Roger Taylor, seeded ninth.

Ashe was victorious in an encounter with 11th seeded Nikki Pille of Yugoslavia. Ashe was the winner by 6-7, 7-5, 30-15, retired. Left-handed Pille fell on the final point to the second set and injured the palm of his hitting hand. He played three points in the third set and decided he could not continue.

New members of the 68th General Assembly recently organized a freshman caucus and elected officers to represent the new committee. The new committee officers are as follows: Left to right is Frank B. Henslee of Pine Bluff, Chairman; Hugh Kincaid of Fayetteville, Vice-Chairman; Mack McLarty of Hope, Secretary; and Kenneth R. Camp of Brookland, Caucus Leader.

Didn't Relate to Miss Tate, Killed Her

By LINDA DEUTSCH
Associated Press Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sharon Tate's confessed killer says the actress "kept begging and pleading and begging and pleading and I got sick of listening to it, so I stabbed her."

Susan Atkins, 22, testifying Thursday in the third day of her chilling witness stand confession, said:

"Everything was weird and far out that night. People didn't look like people. I didn't relate to Sharon Tate like anything except a store mannequin, and she sounded like an IBM machine."

Victim Jay Sebring, she said, "looked to me like a Samurai warrior." She said she and other members of Charles Manson's hippie-style clan who went on the killing mission were "stoned" on LSD.

The tall, slender brunette, clad in a black pants suit and pink crepe blouse, spoke in a Southern drawl and at times lapsed into a dreamy whisper.

She talked eagerly about details of the killings of Miss Tate and six others and an earlier slaying of a Malibu musician.

"Why were these seven murders committed?" she was asked by Deputy Dist. Atty. Vincent Bugliosi.

"It seemed like a good idea at the time. It happened. And it still seems right . . . It would have worked," she added, "It would have worked if I hadn't talked."

She said she regretted telling her story to two jail cellmates, a slip which led police to the killers.

The prosecutor asked why she didn't tell other members of the communal family about the killings.

"It's no big thing," she said. "Seven bodies are no big thing."

"Are they? Are a million people all over this world dead because you dropped napalm on them a big thing? You all think it's right—and what I did was right."

Miss Atkins testified in the defense portion of the trial's penalty phase. She and Manson and two other women have been convicted of murder-conspiracy and the jury must decide between life imprisonment and death in the gas chamber.

Those Establishment thermostatically-controlled halls sure beat cold street corners as places to grouse about the Establishment, don't they, kids?

Doves Dislike Testimony of Laird, Rogers

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee's plans for broad hearings on ways to end the Indochina war are being delayed by reluctance of Secretary of State William P. Rogers and Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird to testify in public.

"Neither of the secretaries has evidenced any desire to appear in open session," committee Chairman J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., said in an interview.

"I don't think anything is going to happen very soon," he said, citing this weekend's congressional recess and a delay in completion of his panel's organizational work.

Another possible reason for the delay: a desire to see how South Vietnamese operations in Laos turn out.

Fulbright said he expects the committee to proceed with a proposal, by Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., to set up its own information-gathering operation so it won't have to rely so much on the executive branch.

"We find it increasingly difficult to get the information from them," the chairman said.

He added that committee members, including himself, have received a barrage of optimistic briefings this week on how well the Laotian operation is proceeding.

"It makes you wonder why they didn't do it four years ago," the Arkansas Democrat said.

Rep. Bella Abzug, D-N.Y., said news reports that U.S. ground troops are participating in the Vietnamese invasion of Laos despite Nixon administration assurances make it imperative Congress retrieve its war powers from the President.

"I think we have been deceived," Mrs. Abzug said in a Thursday speech to the Women's National Democratic Committee. "I think an effort is being made to anesthetize the American people into thinking it is all right."

Rogers and Laird were asked two weeks ago to testify before the Foreign Relations panel. The request was made before

Irish Rebels Are Fighting Among Selves

By COLIN FROST

Associated Press Writer
BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — The men of the Irish Republican Army are fighting among themselves as well as waging war on British troops in Northern Ireland.

The past week's violence, which took 11 lives, was spearheaded by the IRA's "Provisional" wing, nationalists and Catholics dedicated to ending the Protestant-dominated province's union with Britain.

Their methods and organization are derided by leaders of the "Official" IRA, the Dublin-based revolutionaries who claim they still control the bulk of the underground movement. The provisionals dispute this claim.

The intra-IRA war is fought with bullets as well as words. A squad of Scotland Yard detectives is at work in Belfast investigating a series of murders which show most of the hallmarks of IRA executions.

The Officials blame these murders on the Provisionals and are highly critical of the way they are carried out.

One man killed last month left his home at 7:30 a.m. and was found with a bullet through his head 25 minutes later. "This is not the way the true IRA does things," said an officer of officials. "No man is ever sentenced to death by our organization without a trial."

"That sentence must then be confirmed at a meeting of the army council, just like a court-martial sentence in any other army, and the man must be given the services of a priest before the sentence is carried out. You can't do all that in 25 minutes."

The split in the IRA stems partly from political and partly from personal reasons.

The political wing of the movement, known as Sinn Fein, of Ourselves Alone, divided a year ago, and Ireland now has two Sinn Fein parties, each claiming to be the true keeper of the flame.

The Provisionals charge that the Officials have been infiltrated by leftist extremists who want to turn Ireland into another Cuba. They also charge that the IRA leadership allowed the organization to wither to the point where Roman Catholic areas of Northern Ireland were defenseless against Protestant attack in the near-civil war of August 1969.

Both sides claim that they are not aggressors and that they act only to protect Catholics from Protestants and British troops.

Both factions want the British Army out of Northern Ireland and an end to partition. The Officials, however, believe the movement is not yet ready for full-scale confrontation with the British. The Provisionals seem ready for guerrilla warfare now.

"We don't believe in taking on the British at this time," the Official leader said in an interview.

"Before that happens, we have to get the whole population on our side, Protestant as well as Catholic. It is true we are Socialists, but we've no real links with international communism. We've no Russian money and no Russian guns."

He charged that the Provisionals lack discipline and have recruited mobsters, who he said would never be allowed in the original IRA.

Both factions expect their leaders to be arrested at any time. One said the arrest of 50 men would extract the hardcore leadership of both wings. "The only thing holding the government back," he said, "is that they believe internment would set off an explosion on the streets."

"And they are right. It would."

The current operation in Laos, backed by U.S. fliers, got under way.

In more than two years in office, Rogers has testified only four times before the committee in open session—three times during the first half of 1969. His only public appearance since July 1969 came last December when he urged approval of $225 million aid for Cambodia.

Rogers often has testified in secret, the last time earlier this week when he reported on the invasion of Laos.

If Rogers and Laird do not make themselves available for public testimony, Fulbright said, the hearings probably will begin with other witnesses.

Ailing Cambodia Official May Come to U.S.

SAIGON (AP) — Lon Nol, Cambodia's ailing premier, has suffered a relapse and will be flown to the U.S. Army's Tripler Hospital in Honolulu this weekend, reliable sources said tonight.

The sources said he would be flown from Phnom Penh Saturday or Sunday, presumably by a U.S. military plane, for treatment of a stroke that left him partly paralyzed.

Earlier reports from Phnom Penh had said that Lon Nol would be flown to Washington and enter Walter Reed Hospital. The Saigon sources said this was incorrect.

The sources here said Lon Nol was stricken earlier this week, rallied and received visitors, but later suffered a relapse.

Lon Nol turned over his powers today to Deputy Premier Sisowath Sirik Matak. Lt. Col. Am Rong, the Cambodian military command spokesman, said in Phnom Penh he saw the premier Thursday night.

"He is not entirely paralyzed and yesterday he was able to begin to move again," Am Rong said.

In the order of the day turning over his powers to Sirik Matak, the premier exhorted the Cambodian fighting forces to continue to serve the country "with the same ardor as if you were under my direct command."

Am Rong said Lon Nol had been advising Sirik Matak on official matters and had talked also to a large number of civilians and army officers who visited him. The spokesman said the premier's doctors were predicting complete recovery within one or two months.
